A LOOK BACK AT THE YEAR

A message from our Executive Director Danielle Johnson

I am excited to be serving as Executive Director of this growing organization. It has been an incredible seven months since the baton was passed to me by the amazing Ann Fox who continues to serve as an active mentor in my affordable housing journey. Community is my passion and this role has helped me dive deeper into community engagement and equity work. Affordable housing is a key issue across the country and our community. Wichita Habitat for Humanity continues to bring this issue to the forefront of the community and 2021 was no different. We are still in the midst of a pandemic and many of us are continuing to understand the importance of having a decent place to live.

In October, Wichita Habitat turned 35 - continuing the legacy of making affordable housing a priority in the Sedgwick County community. We've embraced a spirit of celebration in the face of adversity. Last year we faced several challenges from COVID, the rising cost of building materials, and supply chain issues. We are continuing to claim victory as we march forward with building a world where everyone has a decent place to live.

Highlights of 2021 include:

- 40 families served,
- 21 new, safe and affordable homes built - this is record-breaking!
- 19 homeowners served through our home repair program.

None of this would have been possible without our dedicated homeowners, hardworking volunteers, sponsors, and staff.

Advocacy Efforts Expanded: While building and repairing homes is a part of the foundation of what Habitat does, advocacy is another important tenet that expanded last year.

- We hosted our first Legislative Build, bringing elected and governmental employees together to volunteer and understand the mission, vision and values of Habitat. We connected the homeowners' stories, volunteer opportunities, and most importantly the history of housing inequities.
- This effort left a lasting impression on every attendee and we look forward to the growth of our Legislative Build.

ReStore continues to play an important role in affordable home improvement access and recycling options. We are proud of the continued growth in the home improvement space and want to ensure that customers start their projects at ReStore.

We look forward to continuing to create tangible housing opportunities through new construction, home repairs and housing policy. I'm blessed to work alongside the most passionate homeowners, core volunteers, community and corporate volunteers, staff, board, and last but certainly not least, sponsors. Wichita Habitat for Humanity will continue to push forward affordable housing solutions into 2022 alongside you.

Construction and service go hand-in-hand for long-time volunteer and builder Tony Zimbelman.

Tony's life is evidence of what you can accomplish when you put others first:

He's served on our board of directors, various committees and built Habitat homes on his own time and through his affiliation with the Wichita Area Builders Association.

"I tell them (colleagues) to do something for somebody else and support your industry," Tony says. "You should give back to the construction industry and Habitat is part of that."

"Make it about WE, not Me"
- Volunteer Tony Zimbelman

"To go from being almost destitute to being a homeowner - that's about the human spirit and will," Tony says. "This is a good program."

Tony treasures the memory of the first Wichita homebuyer he met more than 10 years ago.

ADVOCATING FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING

We're an active participant in the Cost of Home through Habitat for Humanity International. Staff, board members, volunteers, future homebuyers, homeowners and community partners work together to create and advocate for policies that support affordable housing - locally and nationally.

"It was my dream that my family would always have a home. Now I dream of the day that I will have grandchildren sleeping in my children's rooms. Affordable housing programs like Wichita Habitat make these dreams possible."

A LOOK INTO THE FINANCIALS THAT MAKE OUR WORK POSSIBLE

HOW DO WE FUND OUR MISSION?

HOW ARE YOUR GIFTS USED?

LOOKING FORWARD

Message from our Board Chair Chris Bohm

A current TV advertisement features the tagline “Fortune favors the Brave.” As 2022 begins for Wichita Habitat for Humanity, two themes from this phrase resonate in parallel with our mission:

1. Fortune - Our ongoing investment in our community by serving our Habitat families and providing them the opportunity for homeownership, and:
2. Brave - We will bravely pursue our goals during 2022 and have been blessed with the ability to continue our work into this new year.

We will move boldly forward in 2022 under the leadership of Executive Director Danielle Johnson who will lead us in reaching our goals of constructing 14 new homes in partnership with our Habitat families and facilitating 24 critical home repairs. This will provide 38 homeowners with safe, affordable homes. The Home Repair program received a Federal Home Loan Bank grant which is allowing us to expand these services including the ability to hire new dedicated staff.

Other exciting events we look forward to during 2022 include:

- The Legacy Build 2022, our first build of 2022, is possible by a longstanding donor's gift in honor of former Executive Director and super-volunteers, Ann Fox and Mark Fox.
- The Wichita State University Build will cross the finish line in 2022. New partners, new volunteers, a new home.
- Raise the Roof returns on Friday, April 29, at Distillery 244. Save the date and we will save your seat!
- The Habitat Women Build campaign continues. This program is designed to empower and connect women from all walks of life through volunteering and networking events across the year.
- The AmeriCorps National Civilian Community Corps Team. Known as NCCC, this group of 10 young people from across the country joins us to build homes, communities, and hope. Our thanks to the First United Methodist Church for housing them and YMCA for sharing memberships during their stay.
- 'Virtual' Habitat on the Hill. Staff member Kathy Lefler has been appointed the Kansas State Coordinator and accompanied other staff and volunteers to advocate.
- Habitat for Humanity International Affiliate Conference Three staff members including Danielle Johnson will attend the event in April.

All of us at Wichita Habitat for Humanity have the faith that through the fortune of our Habitat staff and board members, our partner families, and by the generosity of our Habitat donors that we will meet and exceed these bold goals for 2022. And we are brave in the pursuit of our mission by knowing that our work will continue to be blessed if we strive to act as the hands and feet of Jesus Christ as we work in our community. May God bless all of us through this new year!
